Attention: Mr. Kevin Loewen, MAA

Dear Kevin,

I am writing this letter to acknowledge the great working relationship we've had over the past number of years, and of course continuing with our mutual involvement on current projects.

As we are both aware, the Carman Arena and Dunn-Rite Foods projects have presented a number of significant challenges, both from a design perspective as well as budgets. In both cases you have shown a great deal of flexibility and innovation in tackling these problems. The end result is a satisfied client and a consulting team that can take pride in providing excellent service.

On a personal note, I find that the level of respect you give to engineers as equal members of the design team and your focus on innovative / practical / cost-effective design solutions is what truly differentiates you in a very positive way from some of your professional colleagues.

If you ever encounter potential clients that would like a letter of reference outlining your experience and capabilities, I would be more than pleased to offer my support in this regard.

Yours Truly,

Tower Engineering Group
